Operations & Performance

During the year in retrospect, the performance of the Company continued to be stressed. The compounded impact of earlier year's losses as comprehensively highlighted in the last years Report to you, caused further erosion of working capital funds resulting in subdued operations. The several requests to lenders for restructuring & enhancement of need based working capital funds have not been met with.

The current period under review faced additional challenges, like sudden glut in the domestic and international market, with abnormal increased input cost of raw material and power, fluctuating global commodity prices and low demand coupled with high debt, had an adverse financial impact on the Company.

The cumulative effect of all the above mentioned factors took a heavy toll on the overall performance and the Company for the period of 12 months ended 30.09.2014 with a loss of Rs. 11163.30 lacs in comparison to the net loss of Rs. 7480.38 lacs of previous period of 18 months ended on 30.09.2013. During the year under review your Company has achieved a turnover of Rs. 40660.72 lacs against the previous year's (18 months) turnover of Rs. 77772.43 lacs.

During the year under review, the exceptional increase in losses of the Company is attributed to paucity of working capital funds and exceptional items related to provisions for doubtful debts and advances.

Erosion of Entire Net Worth

As per the audited financial statements as at 30th September 2014, the accumulated losses of the Company have exceeded its entire net worth and the Company has become a Sick Industrial Company under section 3(1)(o) of the Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act. 1985. Though, the Board of Directors of the Company had sufficient reasons to form an opinion that the Company had become a Sick Industrial Company, on the basis of unaudited financial statements for the period ended June 30, 2014 and accordingly a Reference was filed with Board for Industrial and Financial Reconstruction under section 15(1) of the SICA on October 16, 2014 and registration of the same is awaited.

Outlook:

In order to come out of the difficult situation and explore the current opportunities, the Management of the Company has been working on various options and some of the steps which would have an effect on the overall performance of the Company for consideration of lenders of the Company are listed as under:

- To restructure/ realign / re-size its debts in terms of CDR Guidelines with an aim to reduce costs by increasing efficiencies, rationalization of manpower and other costs.
- To continue with an effort on development of low cost variants of value added yarns.
- To dispose of noncore assets of the Company and the funds so generated will be infused in the working of the Company.
- To explore and develop overseas markets as export of yarn is profitable on account of appreciation of US dollar.

MANAGEMENT ANALYSIS AND DISCUSSION

The cotton and textiles industry has an overwhelming presence in the Indian economy. Apart from providing one of the basic necessities of life, the textiles industry also plays a pivotal role through its contribution to industrial output, employment generation and export earnings of the country. India has improved its ranking as per recent data released by 'UN Comtrade' in global Textiles as well as Apparel Exports. In Global Textiles Exports, India now stands at second position beating its competitors like Italy, Germany and Bangladesh, with China still retaining its top position. However, the contribution of textile industry in terms of percentage to industrial production and export earnings is constant at 122% during the last three years and current year.

SICKNESS/ CLOSURE OF TEXTILE MILLS

The incidence of sickness and closure in the organized textiles industry is a matter of concern. Textiles being the oldest and the largest industry of the country, it is but natural that at any given point of time some textiles units could be lying sick / closed. One main reason of sickness/ closure of the industry include low productivity due to lack of modernization, stagnation in demand and inability of some units to expand in the export market, increase in the cost of inputs, difficulties in getting timely and adequate working capital and the availability of power, labour disputes, excess capacity, failure to diversify in emerging areas, poor management, etc. As per available information, 1413 cotton / man-made fibre textile mills (Non-SSI) were operating in the country as on 31.05.2014 out of which 71 number of cotton / man-made fibre textile mills (Non-SSI) were closed during last three years and current year in the country. Out of 71 cotton / man-made fibre textile mills closed upto 31st May 2014, 17 textile mills were registered with BIFR as on 31-12-2012. Out of 17 textile cases, 4 cases have been declared sick.

CHALLENGES AHEAD FOR SPINNING MILLS

In the past three years, consistent growth has been recorded in cotton yarn export to China, as so far, mills in that country have secured cotton at higher prices. China is the largest importer of cotton yarn in the international market. It is estimated in the recent past, cotton yarn export to China accounted for half of India's overall exports of the commodity.

China's decision to raise spending on farm subsidies per cent is likely to boost yarn production in that country, as cotton will be available to Chinese spinning mills at a cheaper rate. This is likely to hit Indian mills catering to the Chinese market.

The industry experts, expects a fall of about 20 per cent in yarn export to China this year. "The demand for cotton yarn from China might come at razor- thin margins, which many Indian companies might find unviable. Those who cannot afford to export at such prices might not be able to sustain. The mills in India have sufficient capacities but are underutilised due to power shortages"

In anticipation of high demand from China, Indian millers ramped up capacities in the past three years and, consequently, dwindling demand will hit their bottom lines, he adds. For 2014-15, cotton yarn exports are projected at 1,000 million kg, and this is expected to decline in 2015-16 if demand from China is low.

Though a record cotton crop of 40 million bales (one bale=170 kg), compared with 37 million bales in 2013-14, could benefit the spinning sector, mills will record losses if demand from other countries declines. Now, mills are considering other destinations such as Vietnam, Cambodia and Latin America, though he feels their volumes cannot match demand from the Chinese market.

The Confederation of Indian Textile Industry(CITI) recommends companies focus on the domestic market. D K Nair, secretary-general, told Business Standard it might be an uphill task, as despite a good cotton crop this year, opportunities will be few.

OUTLOOK:

There is, however, a silver lining: The Centre has, in the revised technology upgrade scheme for the 12th five-year Plan, stressed revival of the fabric sector. As garment exports rise, the right strategy and attention to fabric manufacturing could help consolidate the entire value chain. "We export about a third of our cotton and an equal proportion of cotton yarn. This could be used in the domestic sector to raise our share of garment exports in the global market. Domestic demand for cotton has been increasing five-seven per cent a year.

An analyst said though millers might see supplies exceeding demand in the short term, resulting in lower recoveries, emerging markets might present new opportunities in the long run.

SPECIAL GOVT. INITIATIVES FOR SPEEDIER TEXTILE SECTOR GROWTH

The new government under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi has stressed an economic vision based on increasing production, export and generating employment.

The textile industry has two broad segments, namely, handloom, handicrafts, sericulture, powerlooms in the unorganized sector and spinning, apparel, garmenting and made-ups in the organised sector.

The new Government has taken many initiatives for the development of the textiles sector. Some of the major initiatives are as follows:

SETTING UP INTEGRATED TEXTILE PARKS

The Scheme of Integrated Textile Parks is one of the flagship projects of the Ministry of Textiles. It aims to assist small and medium entrepreneurs in the textile industry to clusterize investments in textile parks by providing financial support for world-class infrastructure in the parks. The new government moved swiftly and 13 new textile parks were approved by the Project Approval Committee (PAC). While these parks will receive a grant to the extent of Rs. 520 crores from the government for infrastructure development, they are estimated to bring in private sector investment of about Rs. 3,240 crores into the sector and generate direct employment for about 35,000 persons over the next three years.

EXPORTS

With a vision to create an export-friendly economy, the government has introduced several new initiatives:

- Duty-free entitlement to garment exporters for import of trimmings, embellishments and other specified items increased from three per cent to five per cent. This initiative is expected to generate an additional RMG exports estimated at Rs. 10,000 crores.
- The government has also proposed to extend 24/7 customs clearance facility at 13 airports and 14 sea ports, resulting in faster clearance of import and export cargo.
- The proposal for imposing duty on branded items was dropped providing relief to the entire value chain.

HANDLOOM DEVELOPMENT

Specific steps have been initiated for revival of the handloom industry based on its inherent strength for production of high value items. Focus is on assisting weavers with designs, marketing and improved wages. The National Institute of Fashion Technology and leading members of the fashion industry have been roped in for design support to weavers. At the same time, equipment and raw material for producing clothes for the high end customers and niche market are also being provided. Higher wage coming from high value production and reducing level of transactions in marketing would enhance handloom weavers' wages substantially.

In order to provide better marketing reach, the Ministry has launched the E-commerce initiative Flipkart. This will strengthen the existing primary weaver co-operative society by the assisting entrepreneur from the weavers families for taking up production and supply directly to the customers.

HANDICRAFT

Promotion of major crafts of Varanasi, namely, carpet and durry weaving, meenakari and zardozi and pottery, etc., have been taken up by providing assistance to the artisans with better skill, design and supply of toolkits, etc. A Skill Development Programme for training 5000 carpet weavers has been taken up through the Carpet Export Promotion Council (CEPC).

ROAD AHEAD

The Indian textiles industry is set for strong growth, buoyed by both strong domestic consumption as well as export demand. The industry is expected to reach US$ 220 billion by 2020.

With consumerism and disposable income on the rise, the retail sector has experienced a rapid growth in the past decade with several international players like Marks & Spencer, Guess and Next having entered the Indian market. The organised apparel segment is expected to grow at a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of more than 13 per cent over a 10-year period.

SWOT ANALYSIS OF INDIAN TEXTILE INDUSTRY

The Indian textile and clothing industry is very old and plays a very important part in the Indian economy and is one of the biggest in the world. Except China, no other nation can match the size, spread, depth and competitiveness of the Indian textile and clothing industry. The removal of quotas at the end of 2004 has provided the opportunities for India to use its inherent strength and become the top sourcing and investment destination (Technopak.com, 2009). This section will explain the strengths, weaknesses, opportunities and threats of the Indian textile industry.

STRENGTHS

The Indian textile industry has several strengths. First is the availability of low cost labour, which in turn reduces the cost of production. India has availability of abundant raw material which helps to control the costs and reduces the lead time. India is very rich in resources like jute, cotton, silk, cotton yarn man-made fibre in the world. India also has large varieties of cotton fibres which make it distinct from other countries. The Indian textile industry is a self-reliant industry. It has complete value chain from the procurement of raw materials to the production of finished goods. Another strength which India possesses is flourishing domestic market. This allows producers to mitigate risks and be competitive in the market.

WEAKNESSES

Presently, the Indian textile industry is facing a problem to compete in the world textile market. This is because of weaknesses like fragmented infrastructure, rigid labour laws, technology obsolescence and many others. Due to fragmented infrastructure, India is unable to diversify. In fabric production large part of the industry is engaged in unorganized sectors like powerlooms and handlooms. Another drawback of the Indian textile industry is use of outdated technology which resulted in low production capacities as compared to China.

Indian industry has the longest supply chain in the world. The average time taken by all the nations from the procurement of raw material to production of finished goods and finally exporting it is 45 days, whereas India takes around 80 days. Another area where India lacks is cost competitiveness. The Indian industry does not have efficient economies of scale therefore is incapable of competing with China. Also the expenses like indirect taxes, power and interests are comparatively high in India.

OPPORTUNITIES

The Indian textile industry has various opportunities like technical textiles, product development and diversification, FDI and brand recognition. Technical textiles offer the opportunity to the Indian textile industry to maintain the present current growth and flourish in near future. It will also help in advancement of the industry. India is not using technical textiles much. Both nonwoven and woven technical textiles will thrive in India in coming years. The Indian companies need to focus on product development and diversification in order to capture new markets globally. Another opportunity for the Indian textile industry is elimination of quotas. Interviewee C and H said that after the removal of quotas there is increase in the exports of textiles and clothing to the United States and European Union but not as much as China.

THREATS

China is the biggest threat to the Indian textile industry in the global market. India also has a threat from low cost producing countries like Pakistan and Bangladesh which may hinder India's exports demand in the future. Another disadvantage of India is its geographical distance from major global markets of US, Europe and Japan in contrast to its rivals like Mexico, China etc which are comparatively nearer. Big geographical distance results in high shipping expenses and lengthy lead-time. The removal of MFA quotas has given the opportunity to all the countries to enter the textile sector. As a result many big players are entering the textile sector. The Indian textile industry is not able to maintain balance between price and quality. Therefore most of the big companies in the United States and the European Union are shifting their manufacturing orders to China. Hence Indian textile industry is losing its share in global textile market.
